AI Integrated

React is a powerful and popular JavaScript library used to build fast, dynamic, and interactive user interfaces (UI) for web and mobile applications. Developed and maintained by Meta Platforms (formerly Facebook), it is one of the most in-demand skills in the IT and software industry. Its component-based architecture and performance make it a top choice for modern application development. This comprehensive course duration is 4 months, including internship training, helping students gain practical skills and real-world project experience

In simple words, React helps developers create smooth, modern websites and apps where content updates instantly without reloading the entire page — like Instagram, Netflix, Facebook, and WhatsApp Web.

Why Learn React?

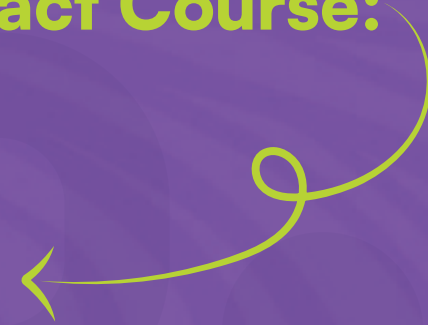

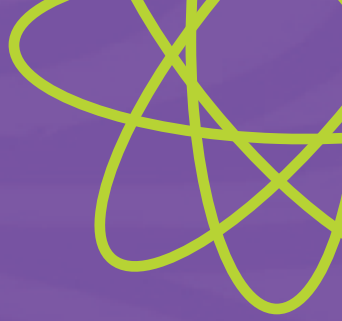

- It is the most demanded frontend technology in 2026
- Used by top companies like Meta, Netflix, Airbnb, Uber, Amazon, and many startups
- Makes development faster and more efficient
